Ten Cents

The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

In spite of dramatic raises in the cost of using the United States Postal Service, mail service has not improved in keeping with the higher cost.

True, employees are better paid and some of the archaic regulations have been softened, but there are enough chinks in the mail armor to make users do a double take at what's happening.

Recently, this ungainly organization caused two persons with whom we have frequent personal contact, to stick their dill in—for the betterment of the service, no doubt. One looked at lagging deliveries and the other viewed the zip code operation.

First, U.S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin called attention to some postal holes that need plugging. He cited a stupid arrangement whereby San Diegans can expect overnight delivery of their mail from eastern points—like New York and Washington D.C.—but have to wait two or three more days for their outbound mail to reach destinations in the relatively nearby Los Angeles area.

He testified in a House postal service subcommittee hearing that the new centralized distribution system of the service created "snags" that delayed mail to Los Angeles.

He reported that 115,000 to 125,000 first-class letters a day are mailed to Los Angeles metropolitan area, a mere 130 miles away.

He said the major problem was the time the mail trucks reach the Los Angeles terminal. It takes three hours to make the run—often longer. By the time the trucks get there it's often too late to get the mail out to local stations, he said.

Mail from the east gets faster service because it is air-shipped into San Diego in time to make early morning schedules.

A postal service lack of flexibility in selecting terminals is part of the problem. Presently, 76 per cent of all Los Angeles-bound mail is delivered to a terminal near the downtown civic center. The rest goes to San Bernardino and Santa Ana.

Congress surrendered control of the postal service to the semi-independent U.S. Postal Service three years ago, Van Deerlin recalled. "The people must regain a measure of control," he said. This could be done through annual reviews of postal operations through regular authorization bill, he suggested.

From another view, Dr. Theodore Bardacke, a writer for MAGAZINE SAN DIEGO, a fine magazine which limns the accomplishments and foibles of San Diego's upper crust, told in the June issue of having lost a letter to the bowels of the U.S. Postal Service. The letter was to a friend in Palm Springs, a distance not really beyond the reaches of USPS—but the letter went astray. He was forced to the telephone to communicate with his friend. The loss angered him.

Bardacke is also a professor of English at City College and an authority on Shakespeare, so he isn't at loss for words. He donned his reporter's cap and charged down to the U.S. Postal Service's fortress-like facility on Midway drive in San Diego to demand an explanation from whom-ever.

There, he reports, he ran smack-dab into one of his former students—Cliff LeBlanc—who had become director of mail processing for the San Diego district. While Dr. Ted never got a satisfactory explanation regarding his errant letter, he got a splendid readout on how zip coding works.

As he tells it in MAGAZINE SAN DIEGO, he was ushered into a room he said resembled the space ship Enterprise in the teevee thriller "Star Trek." Said Dr. Ted, "What are they (employees) doing?"

"They're reading the zip codes."

"Really?"

"Sure. They read the first three digits and send letters to their proper bins."

"I'm sorry, Cliff, you're going too fast for me . . ."

"O.K., Ted, listen carefully. If, for instance, the zip is 21750 that means the letter is going to the middle Atlantic states."

"How do you know?"

"The first number, in this case a 2, tells me that. The next two numbers, 17 tells me its going to the Frederick, Maryland sectional center. So the guy sends it electronically to bin 217. When it gets to Frederick, Md., other sorters will route the letter to its destination 50, which is Hancock, Md."

"O.K., I got it. But what's that chute on the side with the number '400' on it?"

"I'm glad you asked. All the letters with NO zip codes come back to this bin. Some guy has to pick them up and put zip codes on them and then replace them in the row from where a mechanical arm picks them up and puts them in the machine one at a time from which the guy reads the zip."

"So zip codes really count?"

"Do they ever! We can process over 2,800 pieces of mail an hour, whereas before the machine came, one worker could process on 45 pieces a minute."

"But, then, why is your service so lousy?"

That's where we leave Dr. Ted and his leader for a better explanation than he got on Midway drive.

The reason the service is so lousy is that one worker processing 45 pieces of mail a minute processes 2,700 pieces an hour. That's just 100 an hour less than that processed by robot equipment costing millions of dollars, watched over by a squadron of electronic repair experts in addition to the expert operators-readers.

And that's what's wrong with so many bureaus. Manpower and machinery are added to an operation without any increase in productivity. Yet government insists that greater productivity in the private sector is necessary to a viable economy.

But they don't practice what they preach!

We talked with Dr. Ted about the possibility of error in reporting the postal service figures.

"No. That's what he said," was his reply.

For what it's worth, two items crossed the editor's desk since research on the Postal Service was completed.

1. The Soviet Union has asked an American firm to improve the efficiency of the Soviet postal system—patterned after the one in the U.S. (That'll teach 'em).

2. Congressman Van Deerlin is demanding that any Executive Branch politician mailing more than 5,000 pieces must first get clearance from the General Accounting Office. Every letter bit helps!

County OK's Another Environmental Study

The County of San Diego will begin the development of an "economic analysis model" early in August.

The project is being funded by a $168,000 grant from the Ford Foundation.

Guidelines have already been developed for policy makers to use in determining the environmental effects of new development proposals. The economic analysis model will provide guidelines dealing with the economic effects of new development projects.

Phase I of the project will begin in August and continue through December. Copley International Corp. has been selected from a field of 15 economic consulting firms to handle Phase I of the study.

Phase I will examine the issues and evaluate the existing techniques for assessing impacts of development proposals on the economy of San Diego County.

The issues to be evaluated are numerous but can generally be placed into three broad categories of employment, income and production of goods and services.

The results of Phase I will be used as background information by County staff to guide in the actual development of the model which will measure economic costs and benefits of future development.

Phase II will consist of the actual development of the economic analysis model.

Following the completion of Phase I in December, the Board of Supervisors and County staff will review the report.

MUSIC IN THE WASH — The Mt. Miguel Matadors are holding a car wash this Saturday at the Mt. Miguel east parking lot, from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. The cost of the car wash will be $1.00 if the ticket was purchased in advance, or $1.25 at the wash. Proceeds from the car wash will be used to send the school band to music camp, at Camp Mataguay, Aug. 19-23.

Free Hamburgers Added To Monthly Teen Dances

There's something new for youngsters Friday attending the monthly Teen-dance sponsored by the Lemon Grove VFW at its hall at 2885 Imperial ave.

The "something new" is hamburgers. As usual there will be free colas and 7-Up but until Friday, the menu consisted only of hot dogs. Men of the VFW agreed to cook the hamburgers and cook them to order, too. They're free.

Music will be by "American Grease" again. The group was extremely popular with dancers last month and they were asked to return.

Admission to the dances is by ticket only, which is supplied free and must be obtained in advance. Usually they are given at the dance for the next month but those who are qualified may get them by calling Joe Nelson or Sheila

State Funds Risked?

Grossmont Board Deadlock Over Second Campus Finance Issue

The Grossmont College Trustees meeting last week was deadlocked 2-2 in considering a motion to abandon site preparation and construction of the proposed 40 million dollar second campus, or the alternative action entailing a 10 cent permissive tax levy on homeowners for one year.

Trustees Dale A. Burke and William Faulstich said that they did not want to levy the tax, due to an already oppressive tax burden on constituents, and in light of the enrollment dip at the College the tax seemed that much more impractical.

Supt. Robert N. Burnham initially opposed the tax increase due to hopes of securing ballot approval of the project. However it was learned that a special bonding method of financing, tentatively approved by the board, had not proved feasible. Burnham said that even if the special override bonding measure was eventually worked out, it would not be in time for a general or primary election, putting off a referendum until 1976 — at which point the three year deadline for use of the state funds would have expired. State funds would fi-

Grand Jury Indicts SV Man For Pirate Tapes

Six men and two women were indicted by the county grand jury in connection with the operation of a tape-pirating business involving eight-track tapes. Such unauthorized taping is a California Penal Code violation.

Among those named in last Thursday's indictment was Richard Arlin Meneley, 34, of 8871 Troy st., Spring Valley.

District Atty. Edwin Miller said that the indictments were a result of work by his Organized Crime Unit, which on May 17, using search warrants, closed the factory.

Miller said that, "the factory since Feb., 1973.

Grove Community Plan OK 'Just Formality'

SAN DIEGO (CNA)—Final approval of the Lemon Grove Community Plan is merely a formality after Friday's third hearing before the Planning Commission.

Arrest Charge Dropped In Pot Incident

James F. Orr, 28, of Thayer st., in Spring Valley, a companion of Steven Anthony Johnson, 19, of Conrad drive in Spring Valley, who was charged by the sheriff's department July 13 of possession of marijuana and hashish, said Monday that he was innocent of wrongdoing in the incident.

He had been charged by the sheriff's department when the two were stopped by officers who found the illegal material in the vehicle the pair occupied.

Orr displayed a document showing that the arrest had been declared a "detention."

This is a procedure usually utilized when a police superior is of the opinion the charge is weak or improper.

It has the effect of the subject not having been arrested, a deputy district attorney said.

Otay Water District

Alters Water Charge

Glenn Reiter, district general manager of the Otay Municipal Water District said that the district board has approved changes in the billing system in accordance with staff suggestions.

"The district," said Reiter, "is eliminating the minimum billing and decreasing scale for users of large amounts of water. A service charge will be established and each consumer will pay for whatever amount is used."

Reiter said that the previous system encouraged people to use too much water by affording price breaks for greater consumption.

Under the new system Reiter said that there is no change in the per unit charge. Residential users will still pay 44 cents a unit and agricultural users 27 cents per unit.

Stanford Prof Speaks at Law Library Here

Professor Anthony Amsterdam, a law professor at Stanford Law School, and a leading attorney in the civil liberties field, will speak on the subject of "New Developments in the Law of Criminal Confessions" at 12:30 p.m., July 26, 1974, at the San Diego County Law Library, Front and "C" sts., in San Diego, according to an announcement made by Judge Manuel L. Kugler of the San Diego Municipal Court.

Judge Kugler stated that this program is sponsored by the Law Library Justice Foundation, the Law Library Trustees and the San Diego County Bar Association.

Professor Amsterdam is perhaps best known because of his work both before the California Supreme Court and the United States Supreme Court in seeking abolition of capital punishment. Professor Amsterdam also represented New York Times reporter Earl Caldwell in contempt proceedings brought because of Caldwell's refusal to testify concerning information he had obtained as a newspaper reporter.

Time Magazine, in its July 15, 1974 issue, included Professor Amsterdam as one of its "200 faces for the future"—men and women who Time believes are capable of assuming leadership roles in this country.

Area Funeral Services

William Craig

Services were held last week for retired Lt. Comdr. William Bruce Craig, 76, in the El Camino Memorial Park Chapel.

Imperial Invites County Seniors For Fishing Fun

Senior citizens (all persons over 55, non-residents included) are invited to a free fishing derby all morning Monday, Aug. 5, at the Imperial Beach pier.

Advance registration can be made through the Imperial Beach Chamber of Commerce and Parks and Recreation Department, both at 825 Coronado ave., or through the Senior Citizens Center in Marina Vista Park, 840 Coronado ave. Registration also will continue on the day of the derby from 6 a.m. to noon at the pier, located at the foot of Evergreen st.

It is not necessary to belong to a senior citizens club to participate, but proof of age and a handy rod and reel are needed. Free bait will be provided by Pier Enterprises, and there is no license fee for pier fishing.

A pancake breakfast will be served at the pier. High tide is at 10 a.m. For more information call 424-3151 or 424-8182.

Capital Lawyer Is ACJ Speaker

John Joseph Matonis, a Washington, D.C. attorney who gained fame in his battles for constitutional rights, will be speaker at an open meeting sponsored by Americans for Constitutional Justice.

The meeting will be Friday at 7:30 at the Horace Mann Junior High school, 4365 54th st., San Diego.

Matonis has won cases against the Food and Drug Administration; the Internal Revenue Service and cases in defense of religious rights and rights of mental patients.

He was named Attorney of the Year by the National Justice Foundation, an organization of practicing trial lawyers.

Guest Speaker at LG Baptist Church

Bob Turnbull, Chaplain of Wakiki Beach, will be guest speaker at the 7 p.m. service at the First Baptist Church of Lemon Grove this Sunday.

Turnbull, born and raised in Lemon Grove, is a noted youth speaker, author, and is president and founder of the World Resort Chaplaincies—an evangelical, Christ-centered, non-sectarian, non-profit Christian corporation.

Turnbull is a chaplain with the Honolulu Police Department, and works mainly with the vice squad. His appearance at the local church highlights Youth Sunday, and two youth events, Junior High and Senior High Vacation Club. Senior High Club begins Monday, July 29, nightly from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m. at the church, 2910 Main st.

Grossmont Business Courses Expanded

The Business Department at Grossmont College will be offering an expanded program of evening classes during Fall semester, according to Warren Keller, Business Department Chairman.

A new Accounting major has been added that will require 24 units in specific courses. Management related courses have also been added and Keller says "...Human Relations in Business will also be offered for the first time."

A full range of courses designed to meet the individual need of each student will be offered for persons interested in legal secretarial work. Students will have the opportunity to develop shorthand skills, concentrate on legal procedures or study specific office practices.

The Business Data Processing students will have a choice in attaining an Associate degree according to Keller. Students can select an operations option or a management option depending upon their individual career interests.

Four new courses have been added to the evening curriculum in the field of Real Estate. These include Real Estate Land Engineering, Real Estate Economics, Office Administration and Real Estate Investment Analysis and Exchange.

The application deadline for the Fall semester is Friday, August 9. Anyone interested in enrolling in the Business Department's evening program should contact the college's Admissions Office prior to August 9. The Admissions Office will accept applications from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., Fridays.

Sand Castle Contest Set On Misson Bay

Sand fantasies will be created Saturday, Aug. 3, at Crown Point Shores along Mission Bay in San Diego when Mission Bay Associates sponsors its seventh annual sand castle contest.

Toddlers to granddads can participate in the competition, which will begin at 10 a.m. One hundred building location "estates" will be assigned along the 3½-mile stretch of beach on a first come, first served basis.

More than 500 individuals took part in last year's contest and more than 3,000 spectators wandered by during the day to watch.

Entries are in four categories — children (ages 6 to 10), individuals over 10 years old, families, and groups. No reinforcing materials can be used and nothing but ocean water can be added to change consistency of the sand.

Judging will begin at 2 p.m.

San Diego Symphony Appearance At SWC

A 4 p.m. July 28 performance is on tap for the San Diego County Symphony at Southwestern Colleges' Mayan Hall.

Eugene Sacks is the soloist in the Bocherini Cello Concerto in B Flat.

Directed by John Metzger, the symphony will play "Zampa" Overture by Harold, the first and fourth movements of Schubert's Symphony No. 9 and a ballet suite from Tchaikovsky's Swan Lake.

The free concert will be sponsored by the National City Chamber of Commerce.

The college is located at 900 Otay rd. in Chula Vista.

County Park Site Acquired In Los Penasquitos Canyon

193 acres of land for Los Penasquitos Regional Park has been purchased by the County of San Diego for $1,160,000.

The land is located north of Mira Mesa in the valley between Interstate 5 and Interstate 15 and is the first in a series of land acquisitions.

More land is expected to be purchased over the next two years and ultimately the park may include up to 3,500 acres.

James Tennant, County park development director, said the regional park will offer the San Diego community a unique and relaxing environment. The basic objective of this park concept is to preserve open space and provide public recreational opportunity in the fast expanding North County area.

The park, classified as a County ecological preserve, will stretch through Los Penasquitos Canyon between Interstate 5 and Interstate 15. County general funds and one million dollars from a 1964 Ranch headquarters, which State Bond Act.

Bollman Says Wilson Abuses Mail Use

Assembly candidate Mike Bollman said he sent a letter to Assemblyman Bob Wilson to publicly state that he will abide by (no relationship to U.S. Congressman Bob Wilson or to which prohibits incumbents from sending out mass mailings at State expense while they are campaigning for re-election).

"This is not just another picture frame incident." (In 1972, the press exposed the fact that Wilson charged the State $397 for 46 picture frames for his own use.) "One can, perhaps, overlook the poor judgment shown there. But we can't overlook the exceedingly poor judgment shown by this expense which will cost the taxpayers at least $10,000."

"I demand that Assemblyman Wilson's campaign committee repay to the State of California at least $10,000, the approximate cost of this mailing, which otherwise will have to be paid for by the already overburdened taxpayer," Bollman said.

"The incumbent's mailer is nothing more than an outright piece of campaign literature and it therefore should be paid for by Assemblyman Wilson's campaign and not by the already overburdened taxpayer," Bollman said in a statement made public today.

"Wilson may claim that the Campaign Reform Initiative, Proposition 9, which prohibits all mass mailings during a campaign, doesn't go into effect until 1975 and therefore doesn't apply to him in this election year, but I don't feel this is a distinction the taxpayers will appreciate," Bollman said.

For this recital his accompanist is Irene Albrecht, San Diego Opera's official accompanist.

CLUB WOMAN'S CALENDAR

Reagan Advisors Address San Diego Business Women

California Business and Professional Women's Clubs held a Southern District Conference on July 13 and 14 at the Hanalei Hotel.

The theme of the conference was 'A Woman's Place Is in the World'. Major speakers were Dr. Dorothy Ford, manager of personnel and employment development for Southern California Edison Company, Rosemead, California, and Ms. Marilyn De Rose, president of M & M Travel Agency and M & M Business Services. Both women serve as advisors to Governor Reagan for the California Commission on the Status of Women.

Dr. Ford talked about the history and background on the establishment of the Commission on the status of women and Ms. De Rose outlined to BPW members the program which was presented to Governor Reagan.

Myths Exposed
"Virginia Slims" you've come a long way, baby" is very appropriate," Dr. Ford said. "I've seen tremendous changes and improvements in opportunities for women in the thirty years since I've been in personnel."

Dr. Ford feels that it is crucial to dispel the myths about women in the labor force:

MYTH No. 1—Women are working for pin money. In reality, they have compelling economic reasons. They are supporting themselves, raising children as heads of households, sending children to college, sending husbands to college for their advanced degrees, and adding income to the household and increasing the standard of living.

MYTH No. 2—Women are an insignificant minority in the labor force. In reality, 43% of the workforce consists of women. This percentage is increasing rapidly.

MYTH No. 3—Woman don't have the education required for job performance. Actually 43% have B.S. degrees; 30% have M.A. degrees and 12% have Ph.D. degrees. However, women with college degrees make no more than men with 8th grade education.

According to Ms. De Rose, the median age of women working today is 39 years old. Half of all women 18 to 64 years of age are workers. Nine out of ten girls will work at some time in their lives.

ERA Passage Urged

The most important project according to Ms. De Rose is ratification of the Equal Rights Amendment. She told of the Rockefeller grant given to study the societal impact of ERA. Over 109 areas of concern of women were narrowed down to these other projects: rehabilitating council in women's prisons, women in the media, child care, counseling in the schools, employment for women, placement centers in colleges, scholarships, age discrimination and employment of handicapped women.

One hundred and thirty-three representatives of 26 Business and Professional Women's Clubs attended this educational conference at the Hanalei Hotel.

Other prominent speakers of this two-day conference were: Miss Kim Mitterling, Young Career Woman Speakoff Winner and California finalist to national Young Career Women Awards in Chicago, Ms. Ruth McAfee, Talent Bank Chairwoman, Mrs. Peggy Myers, president of Southern District, Miss Katherine Cline, president of San Diego BPW, Mrs. Betty Salvato, president of Rancho California BPW, Miss Louise Bidwell, workshop chairwoman, Mrs. Ella Jahnke, president-elect for Southern District BPW, Mrs. Mary B. McConnel, Miss Eva Dreyer, Miss Margaret Gordon and Ms. Ruth Schilling.

District Rebekah Lodges Hear State Assembly President

Mesa Jewel Lodge, one of 7 Lodges comprising District No. 54 of the Rebekah Lodge Order, was host on July 17 to the President of the Rebekah California Assembly, Betty Dawson Moates.

The meeting at the VFW Hall in Lemon Grove was attended by representatives of the District's seven lodges, located in Pacific Beach, National City, San Diego, and El Cajon.

In closed session Mrs. Moates instructed the District delegates as to plans and procedures for administering the Lodges' diversified community programs.

Later that evening Mesa Jewel Lodge was paid an official visit by Mrs. Moates who participated in the Lodge's regular meeting.

"The Lodges are Service bodies," said Mrs. Moates, "however it would be wrong to say that we are not, in addition, a fraternal group."

On the philanthropic end of things the Lodges provide care for both children and elderly citizens in Homes — the home for the children being located in Gilroy and for the elderly, in Saratoga, Ca. The group is assisted in the operation of the Home for the Elderly by the Oddfellows, an affiliate of the Rebekah Lodges. Additionally, the Lodges sponsor community projects, administer a program of United Nations tours and historical site visits for young Americans. The Lodges hold a chair at John Hopkins University at the Visual Research Foundation, while also operating an "Eye-Bank" whereby sightless persons receive corneal transplants.

Mrs. Moates took office last May at the annual, State-wide Rebekah Assembly, held in Bakersfield, wherein she presided over the legislative sessions following her installation. Mrs. Moates says that, "I was very fortunate to have become the President of the Assembly. I feel that among my responsibilities is the task of seeking out younger members so they might augment the group's rosters — already rich with members of many age brackets."

Mrs. Moates, at 36, is the youngest President in the 85 year history of the Rebekah Lodges. She currently lives in San Jose, Ca.

Skills Course Aids Employers, Students

The widely acclaimed Office Assistant Program at Grossmont Community College offers a one semester intensive training course in basic clerical skills.

Designed to meet the needs of persons who have low income and feel they are in some way lacking marketable skills, the Office Assistant Program works to develop clerical competence and self confidence in persons enrolled. Many of these have never worked before, have not worked in many years, or have held only unskilled jobs. The success of the program is reflected in the fact that 90% of its graduates are now working in offices or continuing their education.

Several of the 16 people comprising the Spring semester class which graduated June 12, 1974, have already found full time jobs. Others have interviews scheduled or have registered for summer classes.

Classes held weekdays from 9 a.m., begin in August and end the middle of December. Enrollment has already started and will be limited to twenty persons. Anyone interested should contact Toni Muller or Ruth Gray at Grossmont College, 465-1700, Ext. 421 or 274, immediately. Deadline for enrollment is August 2.

UCSD Counseling Workshop Stresses Goal Orientation

"People in Transition" is the title of a forthcoming UCSD Extension workshop for professional counselors. The emphasis will be on skills and information counselors need when working with people who are beginning or changing careers.

Workshop leaders Stephen F. Doyno, a behavioral science consultant in La Jolla, and Marjorie Shaevitz, director of counseling programs for Extension, will present a number of creative approaches to vocational counseling, and deal with specifics such as diagnosing the developmental stages of counselees, and assisting in goal clarification, decision-making, and action planning.

The program will take place this Saturday at the La Jolla Village Inn. Times are 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

A special segment of the day will be devoted to the unique issues and problems faced by women in transition.

Counselor Morton Shaevitz of UCSD will give a special presentation on the goal setting portion of the transition process.

The La Jolla Village Inn is at 3299 Holiday Court, off Highway 5 at La Jolla Village drive.

A registration fee of $25 for the workshop will include luncheon at the Inn. For enrollment information, please telephone the Extension office: 453-2000, ext. 2061.

Sewing Machine Taken

A sewing machine worth $516.95 was shop-lifted last week from the Sea's store at 641 Sweetwater rd. in Spring Valley.

Richard Cline, store manager, said the display model was taken while clerks were otherwise occupied.

Lemon Grove (Calif.) REVIEW July 25, 1974

This Week's RECIPE

If you are a vegetarian, you'll flip over these meatless meat balls. They are made with a well-seasoned mixture of cooked dry beans, oats and peanut butter — three plant foods that work together to provide good protein. Even if you're a confirmed meat eater but don't like the high cost of it, try these unusual "meat balls".

MEATLESS MEAT BALLS

- | | |
|--|-----------------------------------|
| 1 1/4 cups cooked dry beans or 1 can (15 oz.) red kidney beans | 2 tablespoons chopped parsley |
| 2 cups quick oats | 2 tablespoons chopped celery tops |
| 1/2 cup creamy peanut butter | 1 teaspoon salt |
| 1/2 cup finely chopped onion | 1/4 teaspoon pepper |
| 1/2 cup chopped green pepper | 2 eggs |
| | Peanut Butter Sauce (below) |

Drain beans reserving liquid to use in sauce. Coarsely mash beans. Stir together beans, oats and peanut butter. Stir in onion, green pepper, parsley, celery, salt, pepper and eggs. Form into 1-inch balls. Roll balls in flour. In large skillet, brown half the balls at a time in a small amount of corn oil (about 1/4 cup corn oil, adding more as needed). Return balls to skillet. Pour on sauce. Cover and simmer 10 minutes or until sauce is bubbly. Stir in additional water if needed to thin sauce. Makes 8 servings.

Sauce: Measure into 2-quart saucepan 1/2 cup Skippy creamy peanut butter, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Place over low heat and stir in drained bean liquid plus enough water to make two cups. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Free Show, Prizes For Area Residents

Local residents have a chance to see a movie free of charge and perhaps win a prize without obligation when the El Cajon office of Home Federal Savings & Loan of San Diego presents Audrey Hepburn, Gary Grant and James Coburn in the romantic mystery, "Charade," on August 12.

In addition to the film, American Airlines will demonstrate how-to-pack-when-traveling. An air representative will show how practically everything can be packed in a light weight suitcase.

The program will be at the United Artists theater in the Parkway Plaza at 10 a.m. with doors to the theater opening at 9 a.m. Tickets are only available at Home Federal's El Cajon office at 200 S. Magnolia.

In an audience participation segment of the program Home Federal will award gifts to some of those in attendance.

In the July 9th program Edna M. Gross won a clock radio, Eva Hambley — a bottle of perfume, Jane Scheeler — a camera, Josie Jacobson — a pearl necklace, Charlene Ehrlick — a coffee maker and Maria Farella — a cutlery set.

'Fun 'n Fitness' Is Area Y Program

The John A. Davis Family YMCA will offer a "Family Fun 'n Fitness" program beginning August 2nd. In line with the YMCA's philosophy of preservation of the family unit, the program will provide the entire family with an opportunity to participate in a variety of activities.

The Fun 'n Fitness program will meet each Friday evening from 6:30-8 until August 30. All participants must hold a family membership in the John A. Davis YMCA. Registration may be completed by visiting the YMCA at 8881 Dallas st. in La Mesa. The phone number is 466-4161.

Local Stars Sought For 'Dames at Sea'

San Diego's Off Broadway Theatre has booked "Dames at Sea" for an August 1st opening. "Dames at Sea" is a fun-filled nonsensical spoof of movie musicals of the 30's. "One" of the show's highlights will be directed and choreographed by Neal Kenyon, who did the original New York production. Doug Nye is the musical director.

Negotiations are underway for television and film names to star in the local production, and announcement of the cast will be made shortly.

The show's setting is in the 1930's.

The 1930's, as everybody knows, were hard times. And Mr. and Mrs. America, as well as sailors on all those ships at sea, scraped together their pennies and indulged themselves in movies, knowing full well, the movies were hokum, but a hokum of hope and escape.

Showtimes are Tuesday thru Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 6 and 9:30 p.m., and Sunday at 2 and 7:30 p.m., with low-priced previews July 30 and 31.

"Sweet Charity", starring Isabelle Farrell and Bob Hanley, closes Sunday.

10th Reunion For Mt. Miguel Class

The Mt. Miguel Senior Class of 1964 will stage its 10-year reunion with a buffet-dance at the Atlantis Restaurant Labor Day weekend.

Festivities and nostalgia are scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 31 at the Mission Bay restaurant.

Reunion committee members report they are having trouble locating some of their classmates to inform them of the occasion. Any former Class of '64 senior not yet contacted should call either Chuck Walden, 460-6296, or Sharon Wald, 272-2622 for reservations or more information.

School Speakers Stolen

Two outdoor loudspeakers were stolen from poles in the recreation area at Mt. Miguel High school, a caretaker reported to the Sheriff's Department.

'Barrel Boys' Open SV Business

The "Barrel Boys Beer Stop" is in, but don't drop by unless you're thirsty.

The new business located at 9428 Jamacha blvd. will be oriented toward "barrel sales and delivery" but co-owners Pat McCaig and Don Huey say that "six packs are on hand for those in a 'hurry'."

Business hours are from 10-7 p.m.

Rabbits For All Seasons

Last week was "National Domestic Rabbit Week" and the Cavy and Rabbit Breeder's Association has released some information that gives us an idea of the value of the common rabbit. Here are some "rabbit facts" and some delicious preparation ideas for your dinner table.

● Rabbits are eaten by the inhabitants of all the continents, first domesticated by man in Africa. They were first considered for food in Asia, 3,000 years ago.

● There are over 50 breeds of rabbits and more than two hundred thousands families are raising rabbits. Only 600 head of producing animals will provide full time employment, and each rabbit will show a profit of from $7.50 to $15.00.

● Rabbit meat can be prepared over 300 different ways and up to 93% of the rabbit can be used. Rabbit meat is one of the highest nutritional meats available and is good for stomach disorders because it is easily digested. Every part of the rabbit may be used for something or another.

● Over 85% of today's furs are duplicated with rabbit fur and more rabbit fur than ermine is used in royalty's coronations.

● Rabbits are the only animal that will produce ten times its own weight in a year. They won't crow or talk back. They are the smartest animals in the world — they add multiply and subtract.

RECIPES

Rabbit Paprika

- 1 Rabbit Fryer—cut off bone
- 1/4 c. salad oil
- 1/4 c. minced onion
- 1 c. sliced mushrooms
- 1 can tomato soup, undiluted
- 1 c. sour cream
- 1 Bay leaf
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 2 tsp. paprika

Lightly flour chunks of rabbit. In large skillet, brown rabbit in salad oil till evenly browned. Add onion and mushrooms. Cook until lightly browned. Mix rest of ingredients together, pour over rabbit. Simmer, covered, stirring occasionally for 45 min. or until tender. Remove bay leaf. Serves 4 with 3 lb. rabbit.

Rabbit Hawaiian

- 1 c. diced pineapple, fresh or canned
- 2 c. diced, coked rabbit
- 2 c. Veloute' sauce
- 1/2 c. toasted coconut

Heat the pineapple and rabbit in veloute' sauce. Sprinkle with toasted coconut. Serve hot with rice. Serves 4-6.

Veloute' Sauce

- 1/4 c. butter
- 1 c. flour
- 2 c. rabbit or chicken stock salt to taste
- dash white pepper
- 1/2 tsp. nutmeg

Melt butter over low heat, add flour, stir until well blended. Remove from heat. Gradually stir in stock and return to heat. Cook, stirring constantly until thick and smooth. Add seasoning. Makes 2 cups.

SUNSHINE IN BLOOM—At last count this gigantic sunflower plant boasted 80 blooms and new flowers are still coming. The over-sized plant is examined by San Diego County Park Ranger Thomas Metcalf and Rangerette Deborah Roy. Metcalf says the plant probably sprouted from a sunflower seed mixed in with wild bird seed fed at Lake Jennings. He says the plant received no special treatment. Metcalf first noticed the plant in late April. Visitors to Lake Jennings should take a minute to see San Diego County's largest sunflower. (SD County Photo)

Gov. Views Food Outlook

Food Marketing ALERT, a monthly publication of the USDA provides a guide to food and supply outlooks for that month. Some recent comments include...

Beef supplies will continue large. Output is expected to moderately above year-earlier levels and near the 1970-72 average for July.

Pork output will exceed that of July 1973 and approach the 1970-72 average for the month. But production is expected to dip seasonally from May-June levels.

Poultry & Eggs—

Turkey will be available in record quantities. New-crop marketings are likely to top both the July 1973 level, and the 1971-73 average by 10%. July 1 cold storage holdings will set a record for the month and nearly double the July average for the past 3 years.

Broiler-fryer production will be slightly greater than in July 1973 and about 5% above the 1971-73 average.

Fresh citrus will be ample during July even though the volume of fruit remaining to be picked as of June 1 was less than that of a year earlier.

Canned vegetable inventories are at a low for the year, but packaging for the 1974 crop is underway.

Milk & Dairy Products—

Fluid milk, butter, and cheese will continue to be ample, while nonfat dry milk will be in adequate supply. Production of butter, dry milk, and cheese — while declining seasonally — is still high enough to increase the size of storage holdings. Commercial holdings of cheese are at a record level.

California Rains Destroy Peaches Say Agriculturists

Too much rain, or rain at the wrong time, can be every bit as devastating as no rain at all, reports the State Department of Food and Agriculture.

Department Director C. B. Christensen says that the unusual rains in Northern California early this month have caused a heavy infestation of brown rot in the state's estimated 810,000 ton clingstone peach crop.

"Losses will be greatest in the 200,000 tons of 'extra early' varieties that are now ripening," Christensen said, "and we can only hope that the damage will not extend to the later maturing varieties." He added that his department will have no estimate of the extent of damage until early August, but it is anticipated that it will be serious.

California ranks number one in the production of the nation's clingstone peaches. Last year, the crop was valued at nearly $64 million. This year's record crop was previously estimated to be in excess of $80 million.

State Safety Chief Warns Employers of Sales Dupesters

California's half million employers were advised today to be on the alert for high pressure sales pitches implying official connection with the state job safety and health programs or the peddling of sales items purportedly sanctioned by the State.

Richard Wilkins, Chief of Industrial Safety (Cal/OSHA) in the State Department of Industrial Relations, warned employers that certain sales representatives for commercial job safety signs, placards, and posters are giving the impression they are employed by or authorized by the State to market such products.

"The State is not in the business of selling job safety signs of any kind nor does it permit any individual or firm to sell any job safety devices on its behalf," Wilkins said.

Wilkins advised employers who question the authority or validity of anyone purporting to represent the State or Cal/OSHA in any matter relating to job safety and health should immediately demand official identification.

Employees of the State Division of Industrial Safety charged with administering the Occupational Safety and Health Act (Cal/OSHA) carry official credentials—a leatherette folder embossed with the seal of the State of California, and inside, a photograph and signature of the State employee and countersigned by the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations and the Chief of Industrial Safety.

The program for the class of 1976 consists of two weeks of professional training at the Academy in Annapolis, Md.; two weeks of damage control training at Philadelphia; one week of aviation orientation at Pensacola, Fla.; a week with the Marine Corps at Quantico, Va.; one week of submarine training at New London, Conn.; and one week at Newport, R.I., with the destroyer force.

He will enter his junior year at the Academy in September.

Tunney Sees Drilling Lease Delay as Sound

Senator John V. Tunney (D. Calif.) today endorsed a resolution of the California Coastline Commission to delay offshore oil drilling leases until the coastline plan is completed. "It is imperative," Tunney said, "that Federal offshore oil leasing decisions be fully coordinated with the State Coastline Commission's overall plan."

"Offshore drilling has an enormous impact on the coastal zone. In addition to the possibility of oil spills, the consequences of pipelines, refineries, and support facilities, which must be built in or near the coastal zone to maintain offshore drilling operations, also must be considered."

"On June 13, I wrote to Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton expressing my concerns about plans for new offshore oil leasing in Southern California. I expressly urged him to provide assurance that 'any schedule for leasing and drilling will be accommodated to ensure that state and local government units have adequate opportunity to react to and plan for the effects of new offshore drilling operations.'"

"I support the resolution of the Coastline Commission to delay final leasing decisions until full and adequate consultations between the Interior Department and the Commission can ensure that the new offshore drilling program will be consonant with the Commission's plan."

The State Coastline Commission passed its resolution unanimously yesterday.

High School Teachers Ask Another Pay Hike

Grossmont Union High School District teachers have complained that they were misled into accepting a five per cent pay boost.

Administrators and board members, they said, told them the severity of the District's financial problems indicated that the 14 per cent increase sought earlier by teachers could not be met.

Certified Employees Council chairman Dr. Earle Wenbourne said $2.5 million is available for funding 9 per cent more in pay raises.

Criticism was made of the Council by the Board earlier this month for not submitting a proposal to the board for its consideration. At that time the five per cent increase was awarded.

Wenbourne also noted teachers had been led to believe that the district badly "needed the money" from the June 2 tax election. The election passed and made available $2.2 million in tax revenue from the district. He said more money is available than originally thought.

Voters were convinced that the money was needed to operate the schools and to help finance the new Valhalla high school.

Tunney Presses Soc. Sec. Administration for Plan To Correct Foul-Ups

Citing thousands of complaints from hard-pressed Supplemental Security Income recipients, Senator John V. Tunney (D. Calif.) last week urged the Social Security Administration to develop an emergency plan to correct the inefficiency of its program.

Tunney told Social Security Administrator James B. Cardwell, in a letter, that "Today's crushing inflation has forced many recipients into a battle for survival because of the Social Security Administration's inefficiencies and its failure to systemize the SSI program."

"Since the inception of the program in January, my offices in Washington and California have been besieged by complaints from aged, blind and disabled persons — some facing eviction, some unable to buy food — that their checks are arriving weeks or months late, or not arriving at all."

Following is a partial text of his letter:

State Bid Request For SD Bike Path

The California Department of Transportation has announced a request for bids on a San Diego construction project between Cabrillo rd and the north boundary of Fort Rosecrans.

The project involves the construction of a bicycle path and bids open on August 15. The state announced that $18,000 has been made available for the path.

I am writing to urge that you immediately institute an emergency plan that will ensure that Supplemental Security Income recipients receive their benefits on a regular basis.

Since the inception of the program in January, my offices in Washington and California have been besieged by complaints from aged, blind and disabled persons — some facing eviction, some unable to buy food — that their checks are arriving weeks or months late, or not arriving at all."

In San Diego alone, the director of the Social Security office has said there are 880 aged, blind and disabled persons who are not receiving their checks on time. Some have never received their benefits.

These benefits are matters of right and of law for the recipients. With today's crushing inflation, many of them have been forced literally into a battle for survival because of the Social Security Administration's inefficiencies and its failure to systemize the SSI program.

This week, a woman called my San Diego office because she had not received her benefit check. She is sixty-seven and has a heart condition. She is penniless and totally without food.

I see no reason why a program in operation for more than six months cannot be made to operate satisfactorily by the end of July. I implore you to meet this deadline and urgently request that you outline steps you will take to meet it within a week.

Employer Deadline for Wage Reports Here

Wednesday, July 31, is the deadline date for California employers to file Unemployment Insurance wage reports and contribution returns and to report personal income tax withheld for the second quarter of 1974, State Benefit Payments Director David B. Swoap said today.

The deadline affects all employers subject to the reporting provisions of the California Unemployment Insurance Code.

Employers who fail to file wage reports and pay second-quarter taxes on or before July 31, will reduce their chances of receiving a lower rate next year. Swoap pointed out that it is not possible to use payments made after July 31 in computing employer tax rates for 1975. In addition, penalty and interest will be charged if reports are filed after the deadline.

New Department

Employers desiring additional information may call their local Employment Tax District Office, which became part of the new State Department of Benefit Payments on July 1. Benefit Payments was established to consolidate various auditing and collection functions within the state Health and Welfare Agency. Formerly, the State's Unemployment Insurance tax and personal income tax withholding activities were carried out by the Employment Development Department.

Swoap emphasized that the reorganization does not change employers' basic tax registration and reporting requirements.

TAKE

By John E. Wirges

As a group baseball players are mostly folks and would fit into the neighborhood like anybody else with kids, problems and funny working hours.

Football players, as a bunch, tend to be lazy off the field, generally forego working out of season and make bad neighbors cause they're always home, puttering around the garden and doing things your Mrs. thinks would be a good idea for you to do, too.

I, for one, prefer not to be bothered by such a hassle! If a guy is a working stiff, putting in hours and such, and still gets out to dig in the garden, well that's one thing. Every neighborhood has its killjoy.

But when a great big behemoth makes enough bread in five months to sit on his rompers and dig in the daisies the rest of the annum to the discomfort of his brothers, that is entirely a horse of a different hue.

So, as neighbors, football types are out. Ditto with basketball guys. Though as a group cage guys don't go in for all that house tending and putterin' around.

Basketball guys tend to stay put, relax and ask little more than a golf course to make pocket money on and a cool drink at sundown. That's their idea of off season fun. And when you get right down to it, you got to think hard to improve on it.

But they make up for it in the winter, when travelin' is as common as breakfast. In fact, those among the cage crowd who care about such things as where they are, have developed little tricks to remind them.

The tall types drape a hotel towel over a chair before they go to bed so the first thing they see in the a.m. is the name of the hotel, therefore knowledge of where they are. Smart huh.

Of course, that doesn't work for the light fingered Louies who swipe towels for souvenirs. They live with the danger of waking up at home thinking they're in Boston or some such and say the wrong thing to the house maid.

Baseball players are more settled, travel less, and enjoy it more, tend to drink beer out of the can and fit right in on talks of dogs, women and other sportin' ventures. They're neighborly types who care about others in their trade. And except for intense guys like Montreal manager Gene Mauch, baseball guys are right comfortable.

In fact, over the years of sports reportin' I think I've only met three guys I can honestly say I totally dislike and Leo Durocher is two of them.

Feeling this way, it came as somewhat of a shock that Atlanta let Eddie Mathews go last Sunday. He is one of the good guys and a fine defender of the working girl.

Eddie took a bunch of promises, used to be's and never wases, mixed with a dash or two of Superstar and turned out a highly proper product.

He had to rebuild a pitching staff when a sore arm, bad elbow and busted hand benched three of his regulars six weeks or so into the season. He grabbed Buzz Capra for $35,000 when the Mets made him available and that little hunk of manhood turned into 10 wins thus far on a curve and a slider.

All in all, Eddie Mathews has done some kind of job for the Atlantas and getting kicked out is hardly the reward he deserves. A change of managers is supposed to jack up a team, but mostly that is pure pucker.

Winning is done with players of quality and if the Atlantas had a few more players of the quality of Eddie Mathews they wouldn't have any reason to shift saddles.

The axe will come to others, of course. Guys like Walter Alston, Yogi Berra, Preston Gomez, Gene Mauch and John Francis McNamara will all get their walking papers someday under the guise of "shocking" a team into better play.

And when it happens it hurts. It's like seeing a neighborhood guy getting fired. There's not much you can do except hope he catches on again somewhere else. That's the least you can do for a guy that drinks beer out of a can.

S.V. Bobby Sox Playoffs
Start Saturday at Bancroft

By Paul Stark

This could be the year the Major All Stars of the Spring Valley Bobby Sox League will win both the area and district championships and go to Buena Park and for the national title.

Spring Valley, for the third time in five years, will host the Major All Star tournament Saturday through Wednesday on the grounds of Bancroft Elementary School.

In competition are Spring Valley, Lemon Grove, La Mesa, El Cajon, Chula Vista, La Jolla, Serra Mesa, Vista and Carlsbad.

The winner will play the winners of tournaments in Santee and Clairemont to decide who will go to the national next month.

On the favorite team are Wendy Freed and Cindy Smith from S.D. Linen, Paula Perette and Mona Shoemaker from Stroh's Lomita Bowl, Kim Hilton and Dorene Stallard from Tire World, Beth Hubbard, Rhonda McClellan and Leslie Mello from Little Eden Produce, Denise Christensen from Rancho Paint- ing, Cindy Carroll and Jenny Stallard from Bancroft Speedy 7-11, Beth Kelly from Delp Plastering and Susan Hobb and Michelle Moore from the N. I. Fire Dept.

Standing in to substitute if needed are Carol Richardson from Rancho Painting, Susan Manroe from Lomita Bowl, Julie Lancaster from Bancroft 7-11, Kathy Martin from Tire World and Ellie Dunne from S. D. Linen as the five alternates on the team.

Officers Named

In charge of running the team will be Mona Lancaster from Bancroft 7-11 as the manager, Jim Stallard from Tire World and Carol Otte- dahl from Eden Produce as coaches and Georgia Seal from Bancroft 7-11 as the chap- erone.

The success of the team will center around the excellent pitching staff of Jenny Stallard who fanned 145 batters in 70 innings, Dorene Stallard who had the second best ERA in the league of 1.78, Michelle Moore, 121 strikeouts in 75 innings, Beth Kelly, 96 strike- outs in 90 innings and Cindy Smith, 76 strikeouts in 68 in- nings.

The opening day schedule on Saturday will have La Jolla going against Chula Vista at 11:30 a.m., Lemon Grove and Vista at 1:30, La Mesa and El Cajon at 4 p.m. and Serra Mesa and Carlsbad at 6 p.m. Spring Valley will play the winner of La Jolla and Chula Vista at 8 p.m.

USO Ballgame Set

USO Softball this Sunday will feature a "grudge" match from Rancho Painting, Su- san Manroe from Lomita Bowl, Julie Lancaster from the USO at 2:35-5:03.

Golf Pro Acadmy.
To Open in S.D.

Plans to establish the nation's first two-year academy for the instruction of golf professionals were revealed last week by Charles E. Pierce, president of San Diego Golf Schools, Inc., and head of the new San Diego Golf Academy.

Scheduled to open on Jan. 2, at Fletcher Hills Golf Course in San Diego County, the San Diego Golf Academy will prepare young professionals for management careers at golf courses and clubs throughout the United States.

According to Pierce, enrollment will be limited to 150 top young pro golfers who show an aptitude for management skills in addition to natural golf ability.

Developed by Dr. Fredrick Schwartz of Mesa College, the curriculum will include courses in agronomy, accounting, marketing, merchandising, tax liability and legal responsibilities as related to golf course management.

Cassrooms are being established at Fletcher Hills Golf Course where students will spend a portion of their time receiving training on the golf course. The first nine-month course will include four hours of classroom instruction per day, five days a week. The remaining four hours a day will be devoted to individual golf instruction, golf play and practice.

Romero Returns
To Bullring

Adrian Romero, who recently dazzled aficionados in the pardoning of a bull's life, returns to the downtown bullring Sunday with Manolo Martinez and Raul Contreras (Finito).

Romero, 24, of Mexico City was signed promptly for the repeat performance because of his artistic heroics with the brave bull Mentiroso. This was on July 14, when Romero, the Golden Sword Trophy winner at Tijuana in 1971 and a star there again in 1972, was making his first border appearance in 22 months. He campaigned in Spain last summer.

Romero's spared bull, known as a toro indultado, was the eighth at Tijuana since Jose Ramon Tirado saved Vanidoso of La Punta on July 23, 1961. Before Mentiroso, the previous toro indultado in Tijuana was Moruno of Tequisquiapan, fought by Mario Sevilla on July 4, 1971, also in the downtown arena.

The day after his feat, Romero told a group of sports writers and sportscasters that he especially enjoyed the achievement because he had watched Mentiroso for four years on the pastures of the Reyes Ruerta ranch, at Apizaco, state of Tlaxcala.

"I have fought about 20 of his brothers and sisters," Romero said. "And now that he's going back to pasture as a seed bull, I'm going to see to it that he has lots of girlfriends."

Nat. History Museum
Holds Fossil Hunt

Nat History Hunt 1-2-14

A fossil hunt will be conducted by the Natural History Museum on Saturday, it was announced today by Howard Weisbrod, Activities Chairman at the Museum in Balboa Park. A day-long tour of the marine fossil beds of the San Diego area will be led by Professor Richard Schwenkmeyer of Mesa College, who will direct the hunting and collecting of marine fossils and discuss the geologic history of the area and origin of the fossil beds.

The field trip departs via bus from the museum parking lot at 9 a.m., returning at 2 p.m. The study of land forms and fossils will cover the Mission Valley, Murphy Canyon, Torrey Pines Beach, Mt. Soledad, Torraline Canyon and Crown Point areas.

Collections will be made mainly in the beach areas and a lunch stop is scheduled for Torrey Pines beach. Bring water and lunch. The $5 fee includes bus fare. Reservations are required. Call Activities, 714-232-3821.

Warren Signed for Orange Raceway

James Warren, 37-year old drag racing kingpin, will be back to defend his Professional Dragster Championship at Orange County International Raceway Friday and Saturday.

Warren will defend his title against many of the best top fuel drivers in the nation in the 8th annual event that offers $60,000 in prize money. He will have to withstand the challenge of such stars as Tom (The Mongooose) McEwen, Frank Bradley, Bob Williams, Tony Nancy and Jake Johnston and others.

Warren drove the "Rain for Rent" Special to top money last year by edging Don (Big Daddy) Garlits in the finals. Earlier this month he set the Irwindale track record with a 5.97 et, besting his own previous low mark there of 6.10.

John Dineen
Lemon Grove DriverNASCAR Races Scheduled
For Cajon Oval Saturday

Top NASCAR drivers on the West Coast take to the 3 1/2 mile, newly paved, hi-banked Cajon Speedway Saturday in the longest race of the '74 season, the 2nd annual Tuborg 150.

Hot lapping of the late model stock car will get underway at 6 p.m. with qualifying set for 7 p.m.

The 5 lap trophy dash will be flagged at 8 p.m. with two 10 lap heat races setting the stage for the 150 lap main event.

All 4 track records are expected to fall for this event as the newly re-surfaced oval has been providing fantastic times all season.

The top shoes and cars have already sent in appearance forms while San Diego rallies its best stock car racers to the post for this event.

Ray Elder, Jack McCoy, Jim Insolo, Sonny Easley and Ron Gausche are all in the fold to give locals John Dineen, George Behlman and Bucky Peralta of Lemon Grove, Duke Dunn and Richard White of Escondido and Jim Lee of Vista a fight to the flag.

Previous experience at Cajon did not prove enough in last year's race as the top finisher was 8th place Carl Adams of Lemon Grove.

County residents are hoping to provide more competition this Saturday night.

White, 1973 "rookie of the year" gave a good battle but gave out after his 4th flat tire of the night in last year's race.

Lineup, together with NASCAR Grand National West points (June 12) are:

1. Jack McCoy, Modesto, 932.75, '73 Dodge
2. Ron Gausche, Truckee, 906.50, '72 Ford
3. Ray Elder, Carrouthers, 906.25, '74 Dodge
4. Jim Insolo, Mission Hills, 876.75, '72 Chevy
5. Sonny Easley, Van Nuys, 835.50, '71 Torino
6. Jim Boyd, Cottonwood, 833.25, '72 Dodge
7. Ernie Stierly, Vancouver, Wash., 767.00, '72 Chevelle
8. John Dineen, Lemon Gr., 754.75, '72 Ford
9. Markey James, Medford, Ore., 711.25, '72 Chevy
10. Jack Simpson, Sylmar, 698.75, '72 Monte Carlo
11. George Behlman, Lemon Grove, 644.75, '72 Chevy
12. Chuck Wahl, Burbank, 636.25, '72 Malibu
13. John Anderson, Lancaster, 631.75, '72 Chevelle
14. Walt Price, Sylmar, 587.50, '72 Monte Carlo
15. John Soares, Hayward, 405.75, '74 Dodge

McNab Gets Hall of Champions Award

Max McNab, general manager and former coach of the San Diego Gulls, was voted a special achievement award by the Hall of Champions for his contributions to amateur and professional hockey during the past 17 years.

The Hall of Champions is at 1439 El Prado, Balboa Park. The Awards Committee cited McNab particularly for helping to popularize the sport through his work with the Gulls and his leadership in developing the San Diego Amateur Hockey Assn. It also took cognizance of his outstanding record as a player, a coach and management executive during an active career dating back to 1946.

Largely through his efforts, the Gulls became the County's biggest minor league hockey attraction from the standpoint of attendance, yet he also found time to help San Diego amateurs develop to the point where they gained national status.

McNab spent three seasons as a minor league player, then moved up to the NHL Detroit Red Wings, and after a back injury requiring surgery sidelined him for a year he resumed playing for New Westminster of the Western Hockey League. He not only was named most valuable player during one campaign but wound up among the all-time scoring leaders before hanging up his skates in 1959.

He was a successful coach for New Westminster, San Francisco and Vancouver, then joined the San Diego organization in 1966. He guided the Gulls until 1972 when he was elevated to the position of vice president and general manager.

McNab has two sons following in his footsteps. Peter now is with the Buffalo Sabres of the NHL after being voted

Padres Trip to Test Leaders

The San Diego Padres will be jumping right into the thick of the fight of the National League's Western Division pennant race in the next few days as they take on the favored Los Angeles Dodgers plus top contender Cincinnati and surprising Atlanta.

But, first things first as the Padres will be meeting the three clubs in somewhat of a reversed order.

Following three days off to relax over the All-Star break, the Padres will be on the road for a pair of single games with the Braves in Atlanta on July 25-26. From the Deep South, the Pads will head northward to test the Cincinnati Reds in three single outings, July 27-29.

Then, it's home for two games with the Western Division leading Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday and Wednesday, July 30-31. Both games are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. but I don't feel that they've got our number any more. We aren't anywhere near the type of team that played the Dodgers earlier in the season. I think they'll be in for a few surprises."

Promotion-wise, the Padres will have McDonald's Fotoball Night on July 30 with the first 10,000 youngsters 14 and under receiving a plastic replica of a baseball with color photos of the Padres on it. The July 31 game will feature Sears Diamond Night with all ladies 14 and over receiving an envelope with either a rhinestone imitation or a real diamond in it. The stone will be appraised free at Sears.

San Diego Handicaps. The $15,000-added C.T.B.A. Stakes for Cal-bred two-year-old fillies on Friday (July 26) begins a three-day weekend of stakes competition at the seaside track.

Among the leading candidates for Sunday's mile and one-sixteenth $25,000-added San Diego — won in the past by such stars as Native Diver, Fignero and Kennedy Road — are multiple stakes winners Woodlind Pines, Finalista, Matun and the runners-up for the past two years, War Helm and Imaginative.

The six-furlong Oceanside, set for Saturday, is the first stop along the trail to the Del Mar Derby for the three-year-old division. While no Oceanside winner has ever taken the Derby crown, four past titlists have gone on to finish second in the sophomore championship.

This year's list of 16 nominees is headed by Vicgray Farm's Shirley's Champion, a triple stakes-winner at Hollywood Park. The gray son of Noholme II made the first start of his career last March, and since then has won four of nine races with three seconds and $76,000 in earnings.

Of the 22 non stakes-winning fillies named to the six-furlong C.T.B.A., which honors the California Thoroughbred Breeders' Association, Bubblebum, Citation's Ruler and Just A Kick will command the most attention.

Won All-Navy Championship

Duane Bobick Fights Friday

By Steve Randel

Back by popular demand, the Duane Bobick Show, produced by local promoter Mickey Davies, will return to the San Diego Coliseum Friday evening.

Duane is the handsome, undefeated young heavyweight sensation from Bowls, Minnesota, who flattened a rotund gent named Lee Mandingo here on January 25th, then proceeded to sign autographs in the ring for close to 20 minutes. This week, Bobick hopes to launch a successful encore performance against a considerably tougher opponent—talented Mike Weaver of Los Angeles—and pick up his 24th straight victory in the city he calls his "home away from home."

"It's great to be back in town again," said Duane, who arrived here Saturday. "I was stationed in San Diego for a long time while I was in the Navy, and I have a lot of fond memories."

60 KO's

While under the tutelage of Murphy Griffith, his present co-trainer, Bobick captured nearly every title in existence during a remarkable amateur career. Victorious in 93 of 103 total fights (60 via knockout), Duane won the All-Navy Championship three times, the All-

Service title twice, captured the 1971 Pan American and National AAU crowns, and triumphed in the 1972 National Golden Gloves. But after the disastrous Olympic Games in Munich, Bobick soon discovered that everybody loves a winner, not a loser.

"I had people at my front door begging to sign me to a pro contract before I left for Europe," he recalls. "One guy from Georgia offered me $50,000. But after that defeat to Teofilo Stevenson, all the deals were suddenly off."

One man who still had faith in Bobick, though, win or lose, was Denver businessman Bill Daniels, who inked Duane to a lucrative pact. And thus far, neither man has regretted the partnership.

Bobick has turned into a perpetual gold mine in a discipline replete with an endless list of aging stars.

Last Tuesday, in Denver, when he flattened Donnie Nelson in the opening stanza, Duane's pro slate now stands at 23 consecutive wins, with all but one ending prematurely.

Friday's Card

Duane Bobick (Denver) vs. Mike Weaver (Los Angeles), 10 rounds, heavyweights.

Jose Olivares (Mexico City) vs. Jewell Chappal (Los Angeles), 10 rounds, featherweights.

Bobby Hernandez (Los Angeles) vs. Felix Jasso (San Ysidro), 6 rounds, welterweights.

Alex Mayoral (Tijuana) vs. Chuck Goodrum (San Diego), 6 rounds, bantamweights.

Last Week

Jimmy Hair captured a unanimous 10 round decision over Raul "Lobito" Montoya.

Hear, who now resides in San Diego with his wife and daughter, will be featured at the disastrous Olympic Games in Munich, Bobick soon discovered that everybody loves a winner, not a loser.

"I had people at my front door begging to sign me to moso" Gomez in Tijuana, postponed twice at the request of the Mexican, has finally been cancelled.

In another feature last week, Irish Ronnie McCarvey, a stablemate of Randy Shields, won his 27th straight victory without defeat by stopping Ad Zapanta of the Philippines at 1:52 of the seventh heat.

With less than a week to go and a record foreign fight already signed in, the 1974 Junior World Golf Championships is on the edge of breakthrough action begins Wednesday, July 31.

Already 57 players have registered, representing 29 foreign countries. That's 14 more players and two more countries than last year's pace setter.

And when you count the United States entry, there are more countries represented in the Junior World than were on display in the recently completed British Open.

The senior girls (15-17) field is nearly doubled. Last year's test saw 26 players take up, this year 49 are waiting for the call to the tee.

The boys 15-17 field will reach its cutoff 256 player mark with ease and the boys 13-14 field already has 142 players listed and may be headed for qualifying tests next year.

More than 100 girls will see action this year, with the total player mark topping out above 600.

Ecuador leads the foreign entry list with nine players, followed by Argentina with six and Canada with five.

Three of the Canadian entry will play in the senior girls division, the first Maple Leaf misses to enter Junior World competition.

Registration for all players in all divisions gets underway Saturday at the Hilton Hotel on Mission Bay.

The schedule: 10-and-under will play at Presidio Hills, the 11-12 group at Mission Bay, 13-14 at Balboa and the 15-17 division at Torrey Pines.

Synthesizer Stolen

An ARP brand musical instrument—a synthesizer—valued at $1,000 was taken from the home of Robert Eugene Goodman, 1517 Drexel st., Spring Valley last week during the owner's absence.

Mills Fund Questioned

James McKinney, candidate for State Senate in Jim Mills' 40th District, told newsmen Monday that Mills was guilty of accepting a campaign contribution from the public relations firm which hired convicted Watergate burglar E. Howard Hunt.

Hurlburt Wins

Canuck Post

Bob Hurlburt, Gulls top forward and penalty killer, has been sold to the Vancouver Canucks, general manager Max McNab said this week.

The 24-year old winger produced 19 goals and 29 points last year. He was the second member of the Gulls to be sold.

McNab said that Hurlburt had an excellent chance to stick in the National League and that he'd prove himself in two years or less. "It's a fine opportunity for him," McNab said.

McNab and Gulls president Bob Breitbard are keeping their offices open in the San Diego Stadium until all the personnel have been relocated.

LINDA PARA SINGS

'People Movers' Program Called 'Satisfying'

By Max Goodwin

It takes an outstanding group to go against the trend but R. B. People Movers do just that in the Bacchus Lounge of the Atlantis Restaurant on Mission Bay.

Foregoing the "oldies-but-goodies" craze, the quartet produces a most satisfying mixture of rock, jazz, ballads and funky numbers in a manner suggesting that fame may be just around the corner.

That corner may be turned when R. B. People Movers nail down a record-cutting assignment for which negotiations are presently under way.

Originally, the group was the Royal Breed, but, according to John Auzin, the pianist who heads the group, that didn't say what their music was all about.

Robert Cartwright, the guitarist, the most recent member of the group, possesses a mellifluous voice. When he blends it with the voice of the group's vocalist, Linda Para, the product is enchanting.

Ms. Para has been with the group for more than eight years and her expertise built on experience shows. She, as much as anyone, sets the mood for the group.

Ron Ogden, the drummer, left Las Vegas to join the group. He has worked the Hacienda and Landmark hotels in house rock bands.

R. B. People Movers is especially adapted to dance rhythms. The only drawback concerning their Atlantis engagement is the postage stamp size dance floor. Perhaps it is a chicken-or-egg problem. Seating audiences takes the space that could be used for dancing.

Atlantis is at 2595 Ingraham st. and showtime is 8:30 Tuesday through Saturday.

Saturday Kickoff For Shrine Classic

It will be air power versus running power when the North meets the South in the 23rd annual Shrine All-Star Football Classic Saturday evening at the Rose Bowl. Kick-off time is 7 p.m.

The entire net proceeds from the game will go to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children, Los Angeles Unit, where more than 6,000 youngsters have received treatment since it was opened in 1952.

Besides exciting action on the football field, the halftime show promises to be the best ever. It will open with a daring skydiving exhibition by the Rumbleseat Parachute team of eight, featuring one of the world's finest female stars, Bonnie Cameron of La Habra Heights.

The North will rely on the pin-point passing of Dennis Sproul, a 6-3, 200-pound quarterback who led Los Altos High to the 1973 CIF, Southern Section 4-A championship.

Dwight Ford of Bell and Kevin Cole of Gardena, the two greatest running backs in Los Angeles interscholastic history, will lead the South.

Both shattered the old single season and career rushing records that were set in 1970.

World Hockey Opens Here Oct. 19

The San Diego Mariners open World Hockey League play here Saturday, Oct. 19 against the Houston Aeros.

But the first game will be at Phoenix Oct. 16.

Three home meetings with each team in the WHL is on the 78-game schedule.

Coach Harry Howell's team, transplanted from New Jersey this year, will start all home games at 7:30 p.m. San Diego's longest home stand will be a seven-game stint from Jan. 14-Feb. 4, when the Mariners host Toronto twice and have single encounters with Edmonton, Houston, Vancouver, New England and Winnipeg.

The biggest travel period is a six-game tour beginning

Nov. 3 with stopoffs at Vancouver, Houston, Indianapolis, New England, Quebec and Chicago, according to Mariner executive vice-president Skip Feldman.

Following the opener, Mariner home games for Oct. are: 22nd — Cleveland Crusaders; 24th — Phoenix Roadrunners and 31st Chicago Cougars.

Horse Show Scheduled For Pine Valley Youth

The Third Annual Pine Valley Horse Show will be held in Pine Valley August 3-4 under the sponsorship of the P.V. Kiwanis Club.

Proceeds will be used for the young people if the community and to support the club's drug abuse program. Part of the youth program is the expense of the use of the Pine Valley Community Clubhouse for young people.

The event is scheduled 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Aug. 3 and 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Aug. 4. A Grand Entry Pageant will be noon Sunday.

It will be held at the Pine Valley Arena on Highway 80. A teenage dance will be held the Friday preceeding; a pancake breakfast will be 6-10 a.m. Saturday and Sunday and a Western dance is booked for Saturday 8 p.m.-1 a.m.

Scheck Retrieves Bike

Quick work by Sheriff's Deputy resulted in the recovery of the bicycle of the son of Jo Ann Gilmore, of 7520 San Miguel, in Lemon Grove. Officer J. A. Scheck, who responded to the complaint drove in the direction a suspect was reported to have ridden when the bike was stolen from in front of a local drug store.

In a shopping center he found a bike answering the description of the one stolen. The youngster riding it finally admitted he stole it. The loser got his bike back. The suspect was remanded to his parents.

Total seating at the track at present is 9,500 with all fans being able to have individual, bucket seats for added comfort.

The shopping center at the entrance to the track is nearing completion and should be open in a matter of a few weeks. Work on the turf club indicates it is progressing on schedule and should be ready by late September.

Work on the freeway from the border to the track continues to improve each day and at present there are only minor detours at a few spots, in contrast to miles of straight concrete roadways.

3-Yr.-Olds Tj Feature

Thoroughbred racing continues this weekend at the expanding Agua Caliente Race Track, with 3-year-old horses to be featured in Saturday's six furlong attraction, The Poway Allowance.

The San Juan Capistrano, a six furlong feature for 4-year-old horses and upward, tops Sunday's 12-race program at the Tijuana track.

Post time for the first race both Saturday and Sunday remains at 12:30 p.m. with Daily Double wagering on the second and third races; Exacta betting on the sixth, eighth and tenth races; Quinella wagering on the first and twelfth races, and the 5-10 handicapping challenge from the fifth through the tenth races.

Construction Continues

The continued growth of the facility at Agua Caliente was noticeable over the weekend with installation of escalators to the grandstand and club house areas nearing completion.

All three levels of the club house are now in use and the colorful gold trim on columns, a white tile floor and brown woodwork throughout the area has brought favorable reaction from the fans.

Shop Window Broken

Lee Roy Mattar, who has a commercial building at 6921 North ave. in Lemon Grove, told Sheriff's Deputies Saturday that a rock had been thrown through the window of the shop and it cost $450 to replace it.

Off-Hwy Vehicles Exempt from Fees

Legislation recently signed by Governor Reagan exempts several types of vehicles used solely off-highway from the state's registration requirement.

According to Department of Motor Vehicles Director Robert Cozens, owners of the following types of vehicles, when used only off highway, do not have to register them:

Vehicles operated only on private property by owners or tenants; Vehicles operated only on sanctioned closed-course racetracks; Commercial logging and farm vehicles;

Unless exempted, all vehicles used exclusively off-highway—including motorcycles, dirt bikes, minibikes, jeeps, dune buggies, all-terrain vehicles, snowmobiles, etc.—must carry a state OHV identification sticker by the end of July, 1974.

Without an OHV sticker or a license plate, non-exempt vehicles are subject to being cited when towed on a highway, Cozens said.

The OHV identification fee is $15, good for two years. Late penalties raise the fee to $18 after July 31 and $30 after August 30.

Richest Horse Jump

Work is underway on the International Grand Prix Equestrian Classic course on which the world's richest horse jump competition will be held September 18-22.

The course is at San Diego Country Estates near Ramona and the purse is $100,000.

World competitors are registering for the event.

Boys' Club Gains From Golf Luau

A golf luau to benefit the Boys' Club of Clairemont will be held Sunday at Tecolote Canyon Golf Course at 2755 Snead ave. in San Diego.

Guests will be paired off with celebrities of sports, entertainment and news media fields.

Last year more than 300 persons were in attendance. A $25 fee includes green fees, golf tournament and trophies. Non golfers who come for dinner and entertainment may do so for $15.

The schedule: Tee-off 11 a.m.—1 p.m.; social hours, 5; dinner and fashion show, 6; program and entertainment 8.

Arrangements may be made at 291-6670 and 273-1645.

Cal Inns Cost Squeeze Seen

California's visitor lodging industry, key element in the state's $4.5 billion tourism economy, has entered the 1974 peak season perched on the brink of financial disaster with the largest volume of business on record.

A study by the California Chamber of Commerce shows visitors paid a whopping $34 million locally imposed room taxes to cities and counties during the 1972-73 fiscal year, reported June 30, 1974. This represents a 38 percent increase in room tax collections since the 1970 base year, according to Clay McGowan, Chairman of the Chamber's statewide tourism committee.

Only half the increase is attributable to higher transient room tax rates and inflation, McGowan said, leaving the industry with a strong picture of internal growth. The Chamber estimates average room occupancy rates at a healthy 75 percent statewide.

However, full-service hotels and motels throughout the state find themselves in the same financial bind as householders. Added cost has stripped income gains by about three to one.

Seasoned operators blame most of the crunch on payroll increases averaging seven percent annually over the past five years. Skyrocketing food and beverage costs run a close

Darting Winners' Awards Readied

The Greater San Diego Darting Association will award trophies Monday night for the winners of the Spring-Summer Season Championship.

Awards will be made at a banquet to be at Boom Trenchard's Flare Path Monday at 7:30.

The Association consists of more than 250 avid darting enthusiasts who hold seasonal contests.

The four teams in this season's playoffs are Boom Trenchard's (96 won-30 lost); Long Juan Dartpooners (84 based on 120 players);

42); Ten Downing St. (87-39) and The Pub (84-42). Competition for the Fall borne. "Tournament pressure season starts Aug. 12. All dart is the difference in winning or not winning a PGA tour card. The International Summer Classic will give each serious professional seven weeks of tournament experience just prior to this year's PGA qualifying school.

High School All-Stars Aid Girls' Clubs Aug. 1

High School All-Stars will meet in Balboa Stadium at 7:30 August 1 under the sponsorship of the Girls Clubs of San Diego.

Sweetwater High school coach Dave Lay is coach of the South team. Bob Woodhouse, San Marcos High school coach will ride herd on the North team.

This year's game has taken on a new format in that the

Drag Cars vs. Cycles at Orange

An all out assault on the number of top fuelers to be record books can be expected right at the six second mark," said PDA Director Douglas Raceway this weekend when Kruse. "The track has been the cream of drag car and motorcycle racing collide in the 8th annual U. S. Professional Dragster Championships. Top fuelers, funny cars, and gas motorcycles. Speeds up to 170 mph can be expected entered as the field competes for a $60,000 prize fund.

Tom (The Mongoose) McEwen heads the all-star top fueller field along with such well-known racers as Tony Nancy, Frank Bradley, Jake Johnston, Larry Dixon and defending champion James Warren. Warren and Bradley cracked the 6-second et standard by recording 5.97 clockings at Irwindale and OCIR, while McEwen holds the PDA title at 6.19.

"I think we can expect a

Attendance Gain at SD Visitor Spots

A monthly survey by the San Diego Convention and Visitors Bureau indicates most visitor attractions in the San Diego area had higher attendance last month than during June last year. Each of the locations checked had higher attendance in June than in May. The combined "gate count" at six major visitor attractions, the visitor information center at Mission Bay, and the international border crossing at Tijuana totaled 4,051,194 for this June. This was an increase of 4.7 per cent or 182,762 over the previous month and an increase of 14.9 per cent or 527,244 over June of last year. (The same individuals can be counted more than once, of course, in such a compilation.)

The visitors attractions polled were: the Cabrillo National Monument on Pt. Loma; Old Town San Diego State Historic Park; Sea World; San Diego Wild Animal Park; and the Visitor Information Center on Mission Bay.

Thomas J. Stokes, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Convention and Visitors Bureau, said early indications are that the "gate count" for visitor attractions this month also should exceed last July's total.

"San Diego County visitor attractions traditionally have high attendance during the summer and operate below desired capacity the rest of the year," he said.

The 1975 Census of Business, conducted by the U. S. Department of Commerce, is expected to show California's hotel/motel industry grossing well over a billion dollars annually, roughly a fourth of the state's visitor industry dollar volume.

Approximately 44 million persons live near highways or airports.

PUPPET SHOW — Marie Hitchcock, San Diego's Official Puppet Lady will appear at the Leisure Living Expo at the San Diego Stadium, July 24 to 28. Puppet Shows are but a small part of the things to see and do at the Expo.
